STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, ss.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, county and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

William Darnell, of Montgomery county, fell from his wagon, heavily loaded with coal, while going down hill. The wagon passed over his abdomen, crushing him in a horrible manner. Death relieved him of his sufferings.

Adams' Fistula Salve, manufactured and guaranteed by J. W. Adams & Co., of Paint Lick, Ky., to be a sure cure for Fistula, Pile Evil, Sweeney, Scatiches, Saddle Bolls, Enlargement Greasy Heel, Distemper, Big Jaw, etc. Sold by CAMPBELL BROS., Pellyton, Ky., WM. F. JEFFRIES & SON, Columbia, Ky., J. P. MILLER & SON'S, Crocus, Ky.

John Philpot, a carpenter of Monroe county, stumbled and fell out of a high door, three nails penetrating his head, one entering the temple, one the eye and one the forehead. He died half an hour later.

Pitiable Story.

Boston, Dec. 21.—The most remarkable criminal case tried in a Massachusetts Superior Court in many years and which aroused intense interest in the fashionable Back Bay district was ended yesterday when Judge Bond pronounced Marion Rogan, who had blinded for life Dr. Frank L. Taylor, a dentist, by throwing vitriol in his face out of revenge for betrayal. The young girl had earlier appeared before the Judge and told her pitiable story and showed the white-haired justice her little babe, of which she claimed Taylor was the father. She said that Taylor, after he had wrecked her life, told her that he was irresistible among women by reason of his good looks.

In announcing his decision Judge Bond said from the evidence it appeared that Dr. Taylor had sought out Miss Rogan knowing she was a virtuous woman, who had in no way wronged him, with the sole purpose of causing her ruin, and after he had accomplished it by fraud and deception and the use of intoxicating liquors, if not by drugs, he unfeelingly cast her off without assistance and advised her to resort to a life of prostitution and even boasted of his disgraceful conduct with this young woman and with others whom he had ruined.

"Such a man," the Judge added, "is so vile that I have no sympathy or pity for him in his unfortunate condition."

Judge Bond said he regretted Miss Rogan did not leave the punishment of her betrayer to a higher power than herself. As to the possibility that similar acts of personal vengeance would follow the pronouncing of this prisoner, the Judge said that such acts were so rare—none other having come before him in the forty years of his service on the bench—that he would take the risk and order the release of the prisoner on probation.

Almost Blind.

Mr. D. Kessing, Bannock, Ky., says: My little four year old girl's eyes were so weak from birth that she could not stand any light at all. Was treated by several physicians without benefit. My neighbors persuaded me to buy Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron from Mr. O. Daugherty, Bannock, Ky. Three bottles not only restored her sight, but made her stronger and healthier than she ever was in her life. Sold by agent in every town.

John Meyer committed suicide at Louisville by shooting himself just above the heart. Bad health supposed to be the cause.

The Mother's Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by M. Cravens.

John Brown killed a wildcat in Breckinridge county, that measured 8 feet 3 inches from tip of nose to end of tail.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.

Prof. Roxa Tyler, of Chicago, Vice-President Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by M. Cravens.

Small-pox is spreading in Green-up county. The State Board of Health has established quarantine against the county.

A Woman's Weariness.

Woman's sensitiveness makes them subject to more intense weariness than men. The melancholy, depression and exhaustion they suffer is due to sluggish action of their organs, which loads the system with impurities, poisons the blood and shatters their nerves. Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron will cleanse the system, revitalize the nerves and gives strength and energy. Sold by agent in every town.

Lewis a Nuckols was renominated for Representative in the Woodford county Democratic primary election.

GLENSFORK.

Our merchants are having a good trade.

The fever cases at this place are all better.

J. V. Wilburn, who has been in Indiana two or three years, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Matilda Wilburn.

The social at Mr. S. V. Wilkinson's Saturday night was an all round success.

At one time this winter it seemed that weddings and typhoid fever would become an epidemic in our town. We have had four cases of fever and three weddings, all the afflicted being better at this writing.

The young folks of this place will give an entertainment soon. Judging from their past efforts, we presuppose that it will be a success.

Rollin Powell is sick from the effects of cigarette smoking, having had three cigarette fits within the last week.

Boys, if you want to kill yourselves as a shagun, don't do it with pins and glue. The former will do it more speedily and with less pain.

Mr. Horace Jeffries will teach the school here this winter. He will open Jan. 7th, with between 40 and 50 pupils. Mr. Jeffries is one of the best teachers in the State and we expect to have a good school.

Any cough is serious enough to warrant prompt attention. It is what it may result in that makes a cough dangerous. For all and stubborn coughs, for gripe, lung fever, bronchitis, asthma and other throat and lung affections, you can find no other remedy so agreeable and harmless, or so promptly effective as Morley's Honey Pectoral. Price 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

A letter I received from Arkansas tells of unprecedented prosperity in that State. There is more money in circulation to-day per capita than ever known in all the history of the State, among all classes of people, the rich, the poor, the white and the black. There may have been larger cotton crops, but there was never so much profit as the one of this year. There is also a good crop of corn in most parts of the State. A fair crop of wheat and oats and a good fruit crop. There is no cause for complaint among the farmers or the laboring classes. There was never a time when the day laborer received more steady employment or got better wages for his work. How long these good times will continue is an unsolved problem. The thing to do is to make the most of the good condition while it lasts.

FRED McLEAN.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetters, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; Infallible for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. at T. E. Paull's.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner of Dempsytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c. at T. E. Paull's drug store.

Life Spence was terribly scalded as the result of a boiler explosion in Bath county.

Sore and swollen joints, sharp shooting, torturing muscles, no rest, no sleep. That means rheumatism. It is a stubborn disease to fight but Chamberlain's Pain Balm has conquered it thousands of times. It will do so whenever the opportunity is offered. Try it. One application relieves the pain. Sold by M. Cravens.

Beat out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and to take. For sale by M. Cravens.

PERSONAL DAMAGES.

This Bill is One of the Biggest Items in the Expense Account.

One of the items of cost not usually considered by the public in connection with railway operation is the bill for personal damages. This is emphasized by some figures recently published in connection with the Texas railroads, where it appears that in that state during two years ended June 30, 1900, the railroads paid to persons for injuries received $1,674,576. It is not the cost of railroad operation, strictly speaking, that makes the line between profit and loss so very fine; it is taxation, personal injury bills, expensive wrecks and the various other collateral expenditures that worry the management. These cannot be provided against, and amount to a sum that is startling in the aggregate.—Railway and Engineering Review.

PINS.

Were First Made in France of Brass and Iron.

Queen Catharine obtained pins from France; and, in 1543, an act was passed: "That no person shall put to sale any pinnes but only such as shall be double headed and have the heads soldered fast to the shank of the pinnes, well smoothed, the shank well shapen, the points well rounded, cauted and sharpened."

At this time most pins were made of brass, but many were also made of iron with brass surface. France sent a large number of pins to England until about the year 1626.

In this year, says Good Words, one John Tilsby started pinmaking in Gloucestershire. So successful was his venture that he soon had 1,500 persons working. These pins made at Stroud were held in high repute.

In 1636 pinmakers combined and founded a corporation. The industry was carried on at Bristol and Birmingham, the latter becoming the chief center. In 1775 prizes were offered for the first native-made pins and needles in Carolina; and during the war in 1812 pins fetched enormous prices.

Pins vary from 3 1/4 inches in length to the small gilt entomologists' pin; 4,500 weighing about an ounce.

BREVITIES OF FUN.

Every little vice is the subject of a lot of advice.—Chicago Daily News.

As the boy was being led to the woodshed he was much moved by the loud lamentations of his father. "Father," he said, with a quivering voice, "this is going to hurt me more than it is going to hurt you!" Of course, this was not true. It was one of those noble lies which love prompts mankind to tell.—Detroit Journal.

CURIOUS WEATHER VANES.

All Sorts of Things Set Up to Show Wind's Direction.

"The figure of a cock which moves with the wind above a ball or globe is a species of vane often seen in France—the idea to be conveyed, especially to the minds of Britishers, no doubt being that the Gallic cock doth o'er-crow the world, no matter how the winds may shift and veer. Crowing and blowing are somewhat closely allied; they are other words for advertisement, and vane has been made to act as advertising media often enough. Thus," says Robert Machray, writing in Cassell's Magazine about "Quaint and Comic Vanes," "I have seen the effigy of a cow above a dairy, of a horse above a stable, of a fox with a hound at his heels over a hunting lodge. I fancy that some of the older 'publics,' especially in the country districts, might show some very quaint vanes representing the names of the houses. So, for example, might the 'Pig and Whistle' have had the figure of a pig as a vane, with the pig made hollow in order that the wind might whistle through it. At any rate, swine vanes must at one time have been quite common, for there used to be a saying that 'So-and-So was cowering up his nose like a pig in the wind.' There is, at least, one kind of vane which is modern, and that is the vane sometimes seen attached to the 'bonnet' or 'hood' or 'cow' of a chimney pot. It is generally of the simplest character—such as an arrow or a pennon, and if not ornamental is certainly useful."

WANTED TO BE REALISTIC.

The Girl Refused and He Secured a Scene for His Novel.

She could not see his face as he knelt and asked her to be his. She was glad of that, for she did not wish to know how much suffering her refusal caused him.

She told him as gently as she could that their lives could not be linked together; that, although she admired him and esteemed him, she felt that it would be risking his future as well as her own to consent to a union where she was sure no affinity existed. It was a touching speech, and she threw so much heart into it that she did not observe that he was taking notes in shorthand. When she had concluded he arose and put his notebook in his pocket. Extending his hand, he remarked, genially:

"I'm ever so much obliged to you."

"S-i-r-r-r!"

"You did it ever so nicely, and I'm under a thousand obligations. I'm writing a novel, and I have a scene in which a girl refuses to marry a man. I was anxious to avoid the stereotyped style of depicting such incidents and make it realistic. You're the seventh girl I have proposed to, and every one of the others accepted me. If you had said 'Yes,' I think I'd have been completely discouraged."—London Tit-Bits.

KILLED BY WILD BEASTS.

Some Startling Facts Relative to Casualties in England.

From India there come once more the official figures relating to the "casualties" caused in the constant war which prevails there between man and beast. We are happily situated in this country in being able to look back upon such a struggle as a thing of the past; but in our eastern dependency, says Chambers' Journal, destructive animals still claim their annual tribute of human blood. In the past year more than 128,000 animals were killed and rewards claimed for their slaughter; and during the same period 25,166 men, women and children met their death through tooth, claw and the poison of snakes. To this terrible tale of human suffering must be added nearly 100,000 domestic animals which were killed by the same agencies. We thus see that the loss of life is about equal on both sides. It is interesting to see how the deaths are apportioned among the wild beasts. First comes the terrible man-eating tiger, which is responsible for 927 victims; the wolves come next, with a total of 462, while the leopard claims 394. Under the heading "Other Wild Beasts" are computed 1,482 human deaths. The rest of the grand total, no fewer than 21,900 items of this terrible death list, are set down to snake bite. It is almost futile to expect any great reduction in the animal loss of life from poisonous snakes, for the natives will never kill one of these creatures if they can avoid doing so.

Spanish Goatskins.

Goatskins are produced in large quantities in the vicinity of Badajoz and generally in all the south of Spain. The skin of the very young kid is used only for ladies' fine gloves and is prepared principally at Annony and Grenoble, in France. These skins also find a market in the United States in a prepared state, but with this sole exception the entire supply of Spanish kid and goatskins is exported in the raw state to the United States for tanning into fine shoe leather.

A Hundred Years from Now.

A philosophical statistician calculates that in the year 2000 there will be 1,700,000,000 people who speak English, and that the other European languages will be spoken by only 500,000,000 people.

Had Not Met Soon Enough.

Many a man imagines that every married woman he meets would have preferred him to the man she married if they had only met sooner.—Chicago Daily News.

About 2,500 suicides are annually registered in Russia.

Too Big a Bill to Change.

Some time ago Ida Balk tendered a street car conductor in Toledo a $20 bill in payment of one fare. The conductor refused to accept the bill on the ground that he did not have change for that amount and ejected the woman from the car. She brought suit against the company for damages and the case was decided against her. Judge Pugsley said in deciding the case that it was unreasonable to expect the street car conductor to carry that amount of change.
